Earth ANGEL

A SOOTHING BLEND OF NEUTRALS WITH JUST ENOUGH ETHEREAL COLOR TO KEEP IT INTERESTING.

PRODUCED BY ANNE MARIE ASHLEY

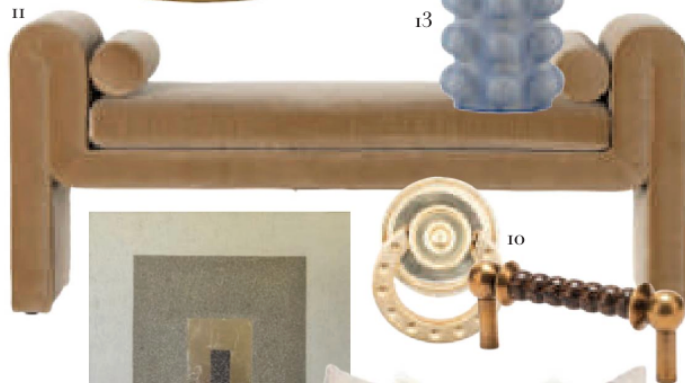

There is a lot to be said for a neutral palette, the least of which is how soothing it can be to the senses. Beige doesn't have to be boring, and tan isn't always tough. Spanning the range of cocoa cream, canyon peach, and blush beige, an earthy palette brings a sense of calm and envelopment that can be a balm to a chaotic soul. Punches of the palest blue hint at the possibility of interest, depending on the saturation or the inclination. Earth and air crash together in an ultimate battle of serenity and strength.
